ACCUSES TIENTSIN SCHOOL OFFICIALS
OF COUNTERREVOLUTIONARY ACTIVITIES

Authorities of the Hsi-k'ai Middle School in Tientsin have been found guilty of hostility towards the people. They have disobeyed the government's educational policy and orders, and have acted contrary to the interests of the Chinese Communist Party and the people. On this account, the Tientsin Bureau of Education, on 28 November 1950, instructed the school to dismiss the reactionary principal of the school, Wang Chi-wu (1) [numbers refer to appended characters], Dean Li Hsi-yen (2), Teacher Chin Chao-heng (3), and Business Manager Man Chi-shih (4). The teacher of political science, Wei Yuliang (5), was severely reprimanded and stopped from teaching the subject, but temporarily allowed to continue teaching mathematics. The bureau has appointed Shih I (6) to act as principal, and T'ang Ch'ung-shan (7) as dean.

Authorities in this school have been persistently reactionary and fascist, and have poisoned the minds of their pupils. In the present upsurge of anti-US sentiment, they have constantly upheld the US in words and actions.

They have done counter propaganda work for US imperialism, purposely hindering the sacred patriotic movement "Resist America, Help Korea." Pretending to celebrate the anniversary of the Soviet October Revolution, on 4 November 1950, with the approval of Principal Wang and others, they dared to show publicly the reactionary American film Negro Soldiers. In this way, then attempted to show how generously US imperialism treats the Negroes. They also attempted to make students and teachers swallow the poisonous propaganda that "America is strong; America is free." In this way they planned to undermine the young people's will to fight US imperialism.

They have been hostile to the people, and the people's government. They have insulted the nation and have slandered our policies. In the Soviet October Revolution celebration, they even dared to put on a very reactionary plan, The Toady Commander, which maliciously and mendaciously portrays the relation of the party to the people. Thus, they publicly calumniated the Communist Party. In the reactionary play American Life they even more shamelessly slandered the land-reform policy which is so heartily supported by millions of people.

They propagandized for fascism and spread pro-US and anti-USSR ideas. In the school library, they boldly placed reactionary books and pictures, such as Mussolini's Autobiography, Fascist Theory and Practice, Life in the US Navy, Such is Society, and many others. They constantly used materials put out by the lying, rumormongering USIS and Voice of America about democratic elections in the US and US relief to China. They exhibited more than 60 anti-USSR pictures.

Scores of reactionary films are stored in the visual education room, among them such warmongering ones as "Military Training," "Life in the Navy," "Methods of Making War," "Military Planning," etc. Featuring German and Japanese fascism and US prestige are, "Introduction to Japan," "Japanese Attack on Chin-chou," "Japanese Education," "Japanese Communications and Transport," "Postwar Guam," "German Calisthenics," "Fifth Columns in Europe," etc. "Signal Equipment Explained" shows how to do secret agent intelligence work. Most shameless of all is a film showing how the Japanese wiped out a brave cavalry unit of the Eighth Route Army.

When the returning delegates of the World Youth Federation were being welcomed, one student, Tuan Te-lu (8) actually shouted in public "Long live Truman," "Long live Chiang Kai-shek," and such other reactionary slogans. The principal of the school even encouraged him and forbade the teachers disciplining him. This was deliberate toleration of counterrevolutionary activities.

The school publicly flouted government directives and arbitrarily re-employed a dismissed teacher. The assistant dean and vocational guidance director, Chin Chao-heng, was illegally employed after being dismissed from another school. An application had not been submitted to the proper authorities before employing Chin.

The school is exceedingly uncivilized. It advocates corporal punishment and insults and punishes students by using the privy as a place of confinement.

Wei Yu-liang was teaching political science, he publicly reviled the Korean people and the Korean People's Army, shamelessly saying a good word for the enemy in declaring that US imperialism fighting Korea was like a tiger eating a rabbit.

Man Chi-shih not only talked on important religious doctrines in the school and carried on activities propagating religion; he frequently held conferences in secret with students, interfering in questions of school administration.
